HOW WE EXPLORE

You will be able to explore and understand a part of Patagonia in each destination, perfect compliments to live and experience the territory that we face in its totality.

In Torres del Paine there is the constant presence of the Paine massifs, granite giants modeled by the force of the glacial ice. Meanwhile, you experience mountain culture in El Chaltén, which invites you to explore the many valleys and glaciers that extend from the Southern Ice Fields. On the other hand, the Patagonia National Park, part of the Carretera Austral circuit, offers us great geographical contrasts and active wildlife thanks to years of conservation by the Tompkins Foundation.

We have over 30 explorations in Patagonia National Park, which range from the basic level to advanced and cover both the national park and its surroundings in hikes, bike/e-bike rides, kayak and overland tours. You will be able to observe Lake Cochrane and diverse fauna like pumas, huemuls, ñandus and guanacos.

You will also be able to visit and get to know the Conservation Center and Douglas Tompkins's conservation legacy.

We have over 45 explorations with different levels of difficulty at Torres del Paine. Our different explorations, such as horseback rides, hikes, mountain climbing and overland crossings allow you to observe beautiful turquoise lakes, glaciers, lenga and ñirre forests, mountains, viewpoints, prairies, and rivers, in addition to the most emblematic sections of the trekking known as the "W". Gaucho culture is present in different activities and explorations.

In El Chaltén we have over 30 explorations with different levels of difficulty that tour parks and reserves through hiking, rock climbing, mountain climbing and overland crossings.

You will be able to observe the valleys and glaciers that extend from the Southern Ice Fields, the Los Glaciares National Park, the Los Huemules Conservation Reserve, Lago del Desierto and the Marconi Glacier.
